How To Guide: How to use the blacklist import/export tool

What is a blacklist? A blacklist allows a user to block either purchasing from or having a listing purchased by a person. Usually only enemies are placed on a blacklist, but there are times where others may appear.

Why should I use the Import/Export tool? More often than not, a faction (such as the Trade Federation) has a set blacklist of people, factions, or NFGs that you cannot trade with due to past actions or statements. These lists can be quite complex, and without a blacklist, it is nearly impossible to track. The import/export tool allows a single person to complete such a blacklist, then share it with his or her faction mates or friends in order to save them time. Intel or security personnel then can post the provided code in order to keep their sentients safe from attacks or breaking the code of laws.

Step 1: Access the blacklist import/export panel

How To Guide: How to use the blacklist import/export tool

Step 2: If exporting the code, a simple string will appear in the top “Export Thread” box. If importing, simply select the code you wish to import from, paste it into the “Import Thread” box, and click “Import”.

Please note: Clicking Import will erase your entire blacklist and replace it with the new import. You may want to take a screenshot or save your export before importing.

Please also note: This import thread is NOT the IFF export from SWC or any other source. The parser will only work with our specific code.
